How Long Can Warring Nations Stand the Strain?

Wholesale Destruction of Treasure in All History Taking Place on European Battleffelds-Figures in Billions.

With the greatest wholesale destruction of treasure in all history taking place, with war-wrought economic losses piling up in such stupendous aggregates no panic ever caused, the question as to how long each of the belilgerents can stand the fearful strain upon its resources is becoming as important and fully as interesting as are any of those more stirring questions growing out of the purely military phase of the worldwar. In a bulletin just issued, the National Geographic society sketches the pre-war economic conditions of Russia, which, having expended $3,500,000,000, having lost hundreds of millions of doltars in foreign trade and cities and provinces worth hundreds of millions more. is facing an indefinite future of warfare confident The bulletin undismayed.

"Commercial and industrial revolution were stirring in Russia before the war: the work of opening its magnificent domain was being rapidly carried forward; plans for developing its almost unlimitdent organization; modern cities were springing up like mushrooms in rich Siberia; textile, metal and other industries were laying firm foundations, and foreign trade had been brought up to about $1, 500,000,000. What has been called 'the most powerful country of the future' was finding itself, was preparing to enter woman's ills. upon the centuries of expansion that it will need to exhaust the constituties of its boundless natural wealt!
